- a. Sunday, July 22, 1991, at el Toreo de Cuatro Caminos in Naucalpan, Mexico, Mexico (5:00 pm local time)
1. WWF World Light Heavyweight Championship Match: Champion The Pegasus Kid (Chris Benoit, who weighed 98 kg or 216.1 pounds) defeated challenger el Gran Hamada (Haraoki Hamada, who weighed 92 kg or 202.9 pounds) 2 falls to 1.
1: Pegasus pinned Hamada with a flying cross body block.
2: Hamada pinned Pegasus with a superplex off the top rope
3: Doctor Daza (legit commission doctor) stopped the match because Hamada was bleeding too much (the paper printed a picture and it was some blood but not nearly what Pirata Morgan bled a year ago against el Faraon when the EMLL pulled the same finish). Rated a good match.
 2. Canek and The Killer defeated Mil Mascaras and el Fantasma (this means Dos Caras is still hurt too bad to go) two falls to one.
1: Killer and Canek pinned Fantasma and Mil simultaneously
2: Mil pinned Canek with a cross body block.
3: Killer pinned Mil when Mil was tripped by Andy Barrow, The Killer's manager, as Mil was going for a body slam; while Canek was pinning Fantasma with an enredada (a small package, which if you think about it is an odd way for a heel to cleanly win a deciding fall, right?) Also rated a good match.
 3. Kato Kung Lee II (Kendo), Silver King, and el Texano defeated Miguel "el Negro" Navarro, el Indomito, and The Black Power two falls to one.
 4. la Ola Lila: Ruddy Reyna, May Flowers, and Pimpinela Escarlata defeated Katana, Valente Fernandez, and a third man not listed by the paper two falls to one.
